

Executive Office

Friday, August 7, 2020

To All Employees:

On behalf of the executive team, we wanted to wish everyone who is vacationing next week a safe and relaxing holiday. During these incredibly challenging times we continue to take market share from our competition while continuing to both ship and receive record amounts of product – a moment of rest and reflection is well deserved. Thank you for your continued flexibility as we adapt to the ever-changing circumstances and for your continued commitment to servicing our customers and suppliers.

We look forward to returning on August 16th with the same values that have ushered our success: humility, hunger, intelligence and respect. Until then, please continue to look out after yourselves and your family as nothing is more important.

Stay well,

John Devin

Robb Sansonse

Richard Leventhal

Max Leventhal